

The Breaking Up of the Church

November 10, 2017

A revolt has now begun. It is a revolt of epic and resounding proportions that will shake the Church to its very foundations. The financial pillar that the Church has been so dependent upon will be shaken and will fail. I by My Hand will do it for I will not have My Church founded upon the idol of money and greed. The Church will become poor that it might find true riches. Judgment begins at the house of God. This is not the breaking up of the country, but it is the breaking up of my Church. I will cause My flocks to come forth to My Water, says the Lord. For need of water and fresh food, My Sheep will come to Me for I will feed them.

This will be a time of great destruction of the strongholds that have limited my people and kept them from both Me and their calling. For many have been limited by leaders that have kept them down but I by My hand will come upon many in this time and I will raise them up and those called to follow them will follow. I will raise up My divisions and My army. For My army is called to be a great army. It is called to be the army of the Living God. For I will lead them, and I will guide them and another voice they will not follow. They will arise and take their place.

You must now arise and take your place for a new season has begun. There will be perils on the left and on the right, but I am there to deliver you and My people. A glorious season has come upon the Church for I am Mighty to deliver, and none shall stand in My path nor will My plan be thwarted. For I have arisen to take vengeance upon My enemies and to judge My leaders that have not been true shepherds. They follow their own minds, plans and devices rather than Me. I will have none of it any longer. I am calling My army forward to take that which has been promised to them. For I, the Lord, have spoken.
