

Navigating When the World is Storm-tossed

Received November 2, 2025

I saw the world and Jesus behind it. He revealed that He will be doing many things simultaneously around the world in the days to come.

I saw people being shaken and tossed violently. The Lord then said, "Do not be frightened of what I am doing." The world will be storm-tossed, but for those who follow, listen, and obey the Lord, He will be their stability. He has a great purpose in what He will do around the world; the dominoes He has set up will fall, bringing disaster.

Christians are called to the "Highway of Holiness," which is the elevated pathway created by the Lord and spoken of by Isaiah the prophet (Is 35:8-9). This is the path where the Glory of the Lord will fall.

As we walk on the narrow path the Lord calls us to walk on, it is very easy to be distracted by what we see on the left and on the right as we witness the Lord releasing judgment. However, we must keep our eyes fixed upon Jesus.

"Hold fast to Me, in the midst of what you see, hear, and observe." When Christ is in our boat, we do not have to worry about the storm.

His warning is to "stay close to Me."

In the midst of darkness in the world, I saw people reaching out to the Lord, but the Lord is not hearing them (I saw Jesus standing with His arms folded; He would not acknowledge them). However, He will reveal to them the highway of holiness, and they will be required to decide to come to Christ and walk in His ways. On His highway, there will be fellowship with Him and restoration, but for those who choose to live in the darkness, He will not hear their cries of distress because they must choose to forsake the darkness and follow Him.

Those who are lost in the storm-tossed ocean of the world will not have stability, but I saw Christians crying out to them, saying, "In Jesus, there is stability. Come to Jesus and walk on the highway of holiness and forsake the darkness and become sons of Light in the Kingdom of God."

There will be two paths. One, walking in holiness and following the Holy Spirit, will be filled with the Glory of God; the other will be darkness, where those who love sin and their money will be.
